RENTING

Rental Agreements:

Most landlords want their tenants to sign a written rental agreement called a lease. It is a good idea to have a written rental agreement. Oral or spoken leases are also valid under the law. However, different leases agree to different things, but most of them spell out:

1. The names of the landlords, the renters, and those who will live in the unit;
2. How much the renters must pay for rent;
3. How long the rental agreement lasts;
4. Other agreements, like how and when the renter must pay rent, who is responsible for repairs and maintenance such as lawn mowing and snow shoveling, who pays for utilities like gas electricity, water, etc.;
5. What the tenant needs to do when moving out to get his/her security deposit.

Written leases protect tenants from changes in rent and rules before the rental agreements end. However, renters who move before their lease ends must continue to pay the rent they agreed to under their lease unless they or the landlord finds someone else to rent the unit.

State regulations (Section Ag 134.07) require that promises made to a tenant by a landlord before the initial rental agreement to provide furnishings, cleaning, repair or otherwise improve the unit must be in writing, specifying the date or time period on or within which the repairs or improvements will be made.

When a landlord wants a written agreement, he must let the renter read the lease before he/she agrees to rent from the landlord. The landlord must give the tenant a copy of the lease after they both sign it. He must also give the tenant a copy of any other rules and regulations he has.

Renters should read carefully everything a lease says before signing it. Renters may find things they do not agree with, or things they do not understand in the lease. This also helps the renter know all things they must do to comply with or obey their lease.

FAIR HOUSING

The Fair Housing Act

The Fair Housing Act prohibits discrimination in housing because of:

1. race or color
2. national origin
3. religion
4. sex
5. familial status
6. handicap

What housing is covered?

The Fair Housing Act covers most housing. In some circumstances, the Act exempts owner occupied buildings with no more than four units, single-family housing sold or rented without the use of a broker and housing operated by organizations and private clubs that limit occupancy to members.

What is prohibited?

In the sale and rental of housing: No one may take any of the following actions based on race, color, national origin, religion, sex, familial status, or handicap:

1. Refuse to rent or sell housing;
2. Refuse to negotiate for housing;
3. Make housing unavailable;
4. Deny a dwelling;
5. Set different terms, conditions or privileges for sale or rental of a dwelling;
6. Provide different housing services or facilities;
7. Falsely deny that housing is available for inspection, sale or rental;
8. For profit, persuade owners to sell or rent (blockbusting);
9. Deny anyone access to or membership in a facility or service (such as a multiple listing service) related to the sale or rental of housing;

In addition:

If you or someone associated with you has a disability such as hearing, mobility or visual impairments, your landlord may not refuse to let you make reasonable modifications to your dwelling, at your expense. For example a building with a "no pets" policy must allow a seeing eye dog. Another example is unassigned parking must honor a request from a mobility-impaired tenant so they can have easy access to their apartment.

WISCONSIN'S HOMESTEAD TAX CREDIT

Homestead Tax Credit is an income-based property tax credit program for homeowners and renters. It reduces the burden of property taxes on low and moderate income to Wisconsin residents through a direct payment to them. The amount of the benefit varies depending on total household income and the property tax liability. Renters count part of their rent as property taxes.

What are the qualifications for Homestead?

To qualify for Homestead Tax Credit you must be 18 years old or older and you must:

1. Have been a full-year Wisconsin resident who owned or rented Wisconsin homestead for that year;
2. Have had a total household income of less than $24,500 including social security, unemployment compensation and other sources;
3. Have been the owner or renter of the Wisconsin Homestead that you lived in that year;

You cannot claim Homestead Tax Credit benefits if you:

1. Were under age 62 and were claimed as a dependent on someone else's federal income tax return;
2. Currently reside in a nursing home and receive medical assistance;
3. Claimed or will claim a Farmland Preservation Tax Credit for property taxes;
4. Received $400 or more of county relief for all twelve months and/or received a Wisconsin Works payment of any amount for all twelve months of the year.
5. Lived FOR THE ENTIRE YEAR in housing that is exempt from property taxes. (If you live in public housing, you may wish to check with your manager.)

WISCONSIN'S PROPERTY TAX DEFERRAL LOAN PROGRAM

The Property Tax Deferral Loan Program provides loans of up to $2,500 to qualifying elderly homeowners to help pay property taxes. Principal and interest are repaid when ownership of the home is transferred or the recipient stops living in the home (if the property is transferred to a spouse or a co-owner residing in the home, repayment may be delayed). Interest on loans is fixed for life. The loans become a lien against the property. Renters do not qualify.

In order to qualify for the Property Tax Deferral Loan you must:

1. You must be 65 or older on the date of application;
2. You must live in a Wisconsin residence that you own;
3. Have had a total household income, including social security and other sources, of $20,000 or less ;
4. Have outstanding liens and judgements on your home that total less than 50 percent of the assessed value of your home for property tax purposes.
5. Have lived in your home for at least six months (temporary living in a health care facility qualifies the same as living in your home);
6. Have a fire and extended casualty insurance policy on your home;

Co-owners or a spouse must be at least 60 years old. If you or your spouse is permanently disabled, there is no age requirement for your spouse. Single-family dwelling, units in a condominium or a cooperative, or a building with no more than four units may qualify; mobile homes do not qualify.

THE VOUCHER PROGRAM

The Section 8 Voucher Program of The Housing Authority of the City of Dodgeville (DHA) is a federally funded rental subsidy program for low-income persons residing in the Dodgeville area. The city of Dodgeville's Housing Authority obtains Rental Assistance funds from HUD by demonstrating need through an application process. Under the DHA's Section 8 Voucher Program, eligible applicants are given a choice in finding an existing, decent, safe, and sanitary rental unit in Dodgeville.

How the program works:

An applicant who meets the eligibility requirements will be placed on a waiting list until there is an opening. Thereafter, the applicant locates a rental unit of their choice. The housing unit must pass a required health and safety inspection to determine if it meets federal Housing Quality Standards (HQS). The HQS inspection is an important part of assuring that the program provides decent, safe, and sanitary housing for very low income families and individuals.

In general, a family pays 30% of their adjusted gross income for rent and utilities, and the program pays the balance up to a maximum Fair Market Rent (FMR) which is determined by HUD.

Who is eligible?

Applicants must be low-income families as determined by HUD. A family includes elderly, handicapped, disabled, and single individuals. Eligibility is based upon gross annual income and number of people in the family.

FAMILY SIZE	1 PERSON	2 PEOPLE
MAXIMUM INCOME	$23,300	$26,600

Where to apply:

If you think you might be eligible for the Section 8 Voucher Program and wish to apply, you can obtain an application at the DHA office located in City Hall at 100 E Fountain St. Dodgeville, WI 53533. For further information or assistance, contact DHA at (608) 935-9593.
