5)	Jolene shared with the committee that history has shown most parcels are delinquent 5 or more years before they get to the committee for review. This can be for several reasons: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) The property is in bankruptcy, the property is then stayed. This means we cannot proceed with tax deed action until the property is released. 2) The property owner is making payments and as long as they are moving forward we work with them. Once they default on their payment arrangements is when the process of taking the property begins. 3) The property is in foreclosure with their mortgage company. We try to work with their bank to clear up any back taxes. 4) The property has a bad description, error on deeds or pieces of land that are created when the deed is mapped. Connie stated that they have 5 delinquent properties for 2010, 1 for 2011 and 17 for 2012 that they are working on tax deeding.	Public Comment
